Hello All! It seems some of you are checking in here regularly, but some are not. It is required that you keep up with the course moving forward. I will not overwhelm you with work but I will give you 2-3 hours a week of work and it is expected that you complete this work. If you need live help please log on when I say I will be on, Tuesdays @ 9:30am, and another day a least but I would like it to be a time that works for more students. (only 2 have come online for live chat so far). There is also a week's document attached here and emailed to you. Please let me know if you need help with this one.

FAKE ASSIGNMENT DO NOT DO ✓

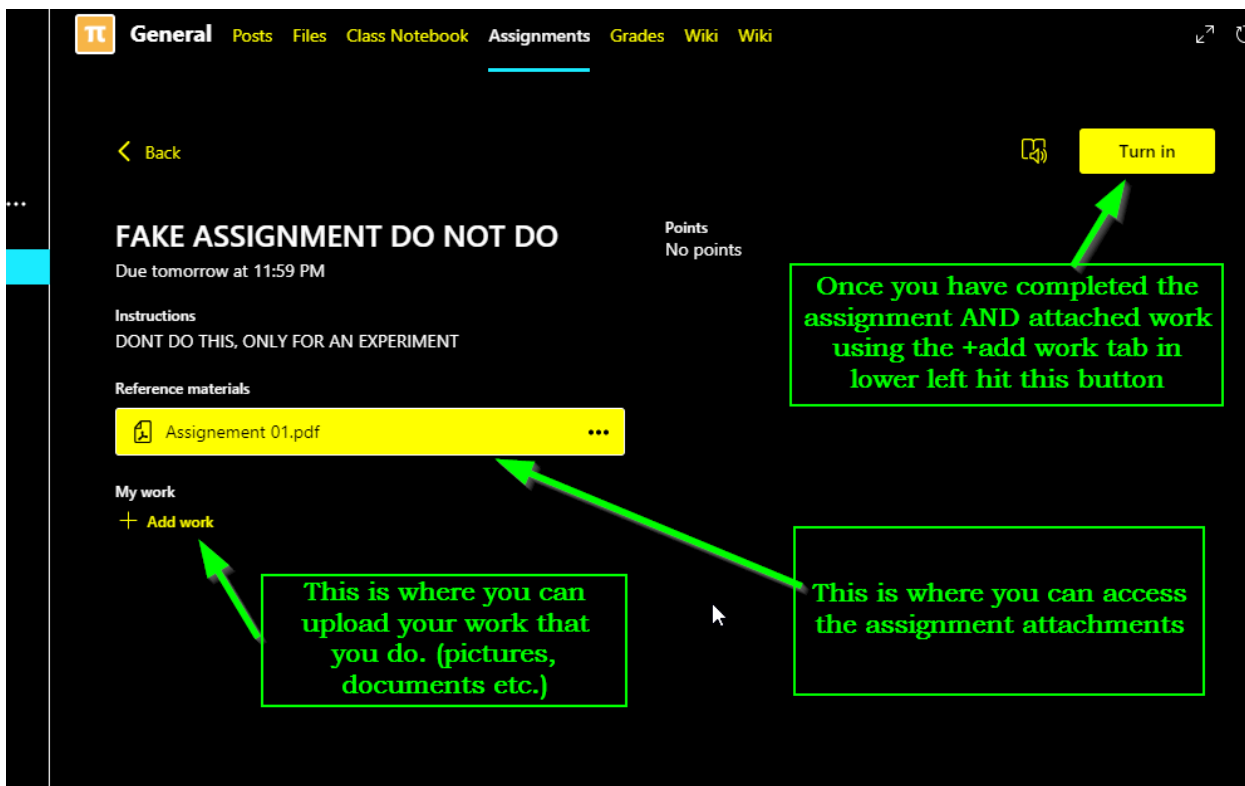

Here you can find any outstanding assignments that you have yet to complete

Here you can find any assignments that you have completed and handed in. You can click on one to see grade, teacher comments, or even resubmit or attach more work

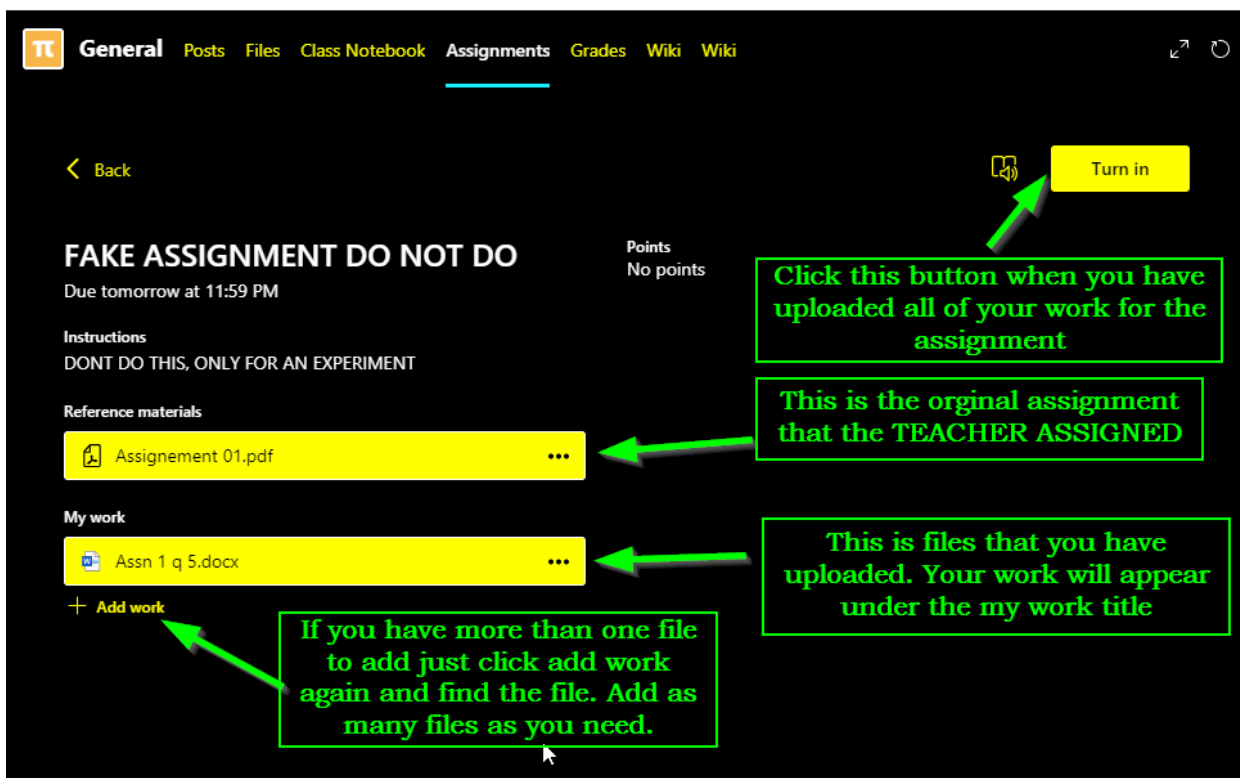

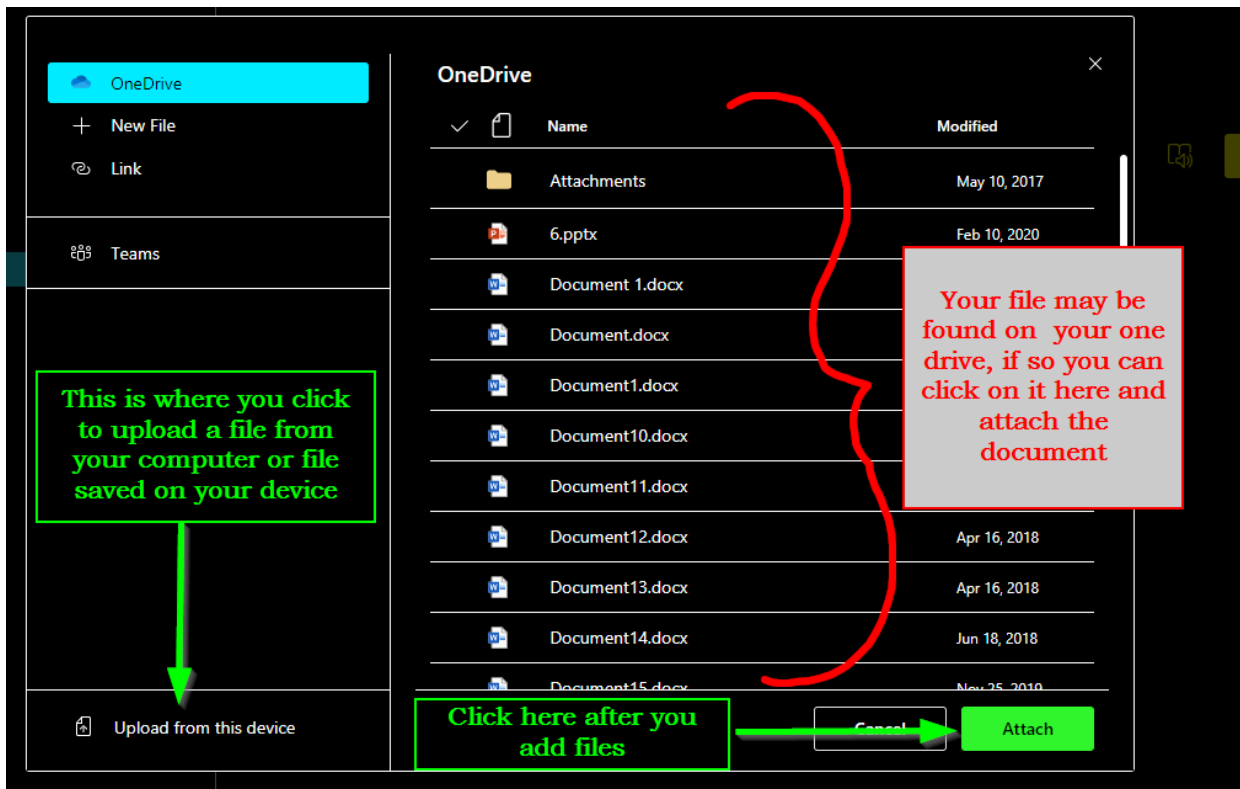

The following is if you click on an assignment you HAVE NOT completed and still need to submit.

Closer up view if needed

This is the screen you get when you click on the + add work button.

At this point your assignment is submitted and ready to be assessed by your teacher.

If you click on an already submitted assignment, you will see this screen.
